SPECIAL PROJECTS

2024: Collaboration with Center Stage Arts in Health at Penn State Health. Center Stage Arts in Health is dedicated to nourishing the well-being of their patients, families and healthcare providers through the arts. The "Pick a Pic" program at Penn State Cancer Institute features images that would soothe, comfort, cheer or inspire patients during their stay. Lynnette Shelley's artwork "Seen and Unseen" was reproduced as a giclee print as a part of this program. In addition, Penn State Health reproduced "Seen and Unseen" as well as "A Murmuration of Memories" for one of their Hershey, PA, clinics.
2023: Lynnette had artwork reproduced and installed as a giclee print in one of the community rooms at Landis Place on King, a senior apartment complex located in Lancaster, PA.
2022: Lynnette had five artworks chosen to be installed as large scale reproductions in the Penn State Health Lancaster Medical Center, a 341,000-square-foot, 5-story acute care facility in Lancaster, PA.
2021: Lynnette was one of seven artists whose work was reproduced for the "Art Montco Wall" display set inside the King of Prussia Mall, the largest retail space in the United States and largest mall on the East Coast. The Art Wall was unveiled in late October 2021 in conjunction with ArtsMontco, and the Valley Forge Tourism and Convention Board.

- 2019: Four of Lynnette's artworks ("Meadowlark Summer", "Monarch and Chrysanthemums", "Bumblebee and Dandelions" and "Great Blue Heron") were picked as the featured art for seven banners hanging in downtown Rahway, NJ's, arts district. The banners were on display for the Spring and Summer of 2019.
- 2018: Lynnette's artwork "Sacred Hare" was one of 18 artworks selected for the Lamp Post Banner Project by the West Chester Borough Public Arts Commission. As a part of this project, original art by regional artists was printed on banners that were hung in downtown West Chester through 2021.
- 2016: "Donkeys Around Town", various locations in downtown Philadelphia, PA. The "Donkeys Around Town" program was a civic initiative of the Philadelphia 2016 Host Committee for the Democratic National Convention. In celebration of the 2016 Democratic National Convention, 57 fiberglass donkeys were painted by local artists. These donkeys were placed at popular sites and attractions throughout Philadelphia in July 2016. Artist Lynnette Shelley was one of 28 artists selected to participate in this public arts project, and was responsible for painting two donkeys.
- 2016: Art Installation by Madison Art Consulting at Nemours duPont Pediatrics in Deptford, NJ. Four of Lynnette's artworks were licensed as large prints that were permanently installed at this award-winning children's health facility.
